

Company Description

Graphenea, company leader in graphene production, was established in 2010, and has since grown to be one of the world's largest providers of graphene. The company is headquartered at the nanotechnology cluster CIC nanoGune in San Sebastian, Spain and Boston. Graphenea employs 15 people and exports graphene materials to more than 400 customers in 55 countries.

Information

 Deadline: 2019-04-30
 Category: Business
 Province: Gipuzkoa

 Country: Basque Country
 City: San Sebastian

Company

Graphenea

Main functions, requisites & benefits

Main functions

The position holder, working closely with Graphenea's Scientific Director and the Research Team, will conduct research activities related to advanced anode and cathode composites and electrochemical characterization.

Requisites

The position requires a PhD in Chemistry, Physics, and/or Materials Science. The candidate should have ideally experience working in battery research and battery materials development. Previous experience in industry environment and Design of Experiments (DoE) will also be valued. Proficiency in spoken and written English is compulsory.

