

Company Description

GRUPO SERRALLE is a group that provides services for turnkey solutions, adapted to the specific needs of companies, helping them to optimise their production processes via 5 different business lines: STEEL MELTING SHOP: design, manufacture and provision of complete turnkey solutions for steel work at the international level. ROLLING MILL: supplies engineering, acquisition and production projects using a technology developed for the processing of semi-products for a wide range of final products. COIL PROCESSING LINES: design, manufacture, installation and set-up of metal coil processing lines, with a wide range currently being produced for industry. METALLIC FURNITURE: design, manufacture and commercialization of products for storage and workspace optimization.

Information

📅 Deadline: 2019-04-02
🏢 Category: Business
📍 Province: Gipuzkoa

🌐 Country: Basque Country
🏠 City: Azpeitia

Company

ieTeam Consultores

Main functions, requisites & benefits

Main functions

On this occasion, we are looking for a Senior Mechanical Engineer who will be responsible for carrying out the work assigned within the designated limits of time and quality, covering aspects related to technical development, documentation, contact with customers and suppliers in an autonomous manner, liaising constantly with the Area Manager. His/her main responsibilities will be: Equipment design. Preparation of the documentation required for the equipment in accordance with department planning. Management of technical documentation. Training and supporting junior engineers. Monitoring manufacture and assembly. Analysis and optimization of processes. Project management.

Requisites

We are looking for a person with qualifications in Technical Architecture (technical drawing), Technical or Industrial Engineering. A minimum of 5 years' experience in similar posts is required, during which time s/he has participated in global project teams. S/he should have proven experience in mechanical design, extensive knowledge in the area, a good understanding of the functionality of SOLID EDGE equipment. The successful applicant must have a good level of English (B2). The following skills will be highly valued: commitment to company values, responsibility, pro-active nature, group work, organization and cleanliness, desire for self-improvement, leadership and ability to interact with the customer.

