

Company Description

Lookiero is the leading personal shopping service online for women in Europe. We believe style is much more than the clothes we wear. We use style to inspire our clients to express themselves. Our combination of smart technology and experienced personal stylists ensure we find inspiring and constantly surprising styles, tailored to our clients' needs and preferences. We create lasting relationships between our Personal Shoppers and our clients, enabling us to deliver a thoughtful and personalised selection of items chosen specifically for them, every time. We have grown rapidly since our launch in 2016 and are continuing to grow quickly! We now operate in 7 countries with a super talented team of +350 people across our 4 offices in Bilbao (HQ), Paris, London and Milan. The diverse backgrounds, mindsets and ideas of our team helps us uniquely deliver on our business proposition and makes us an energising place to build a career.

Information

 Deadline: 2020-12-09
 Category: Business
 Province: Bizkaia

 Country: Basque Country
 City: Bilbao

Company

Lookiero Tech

Main functions, requisites & benefits

Main functions

To focus on coding, cleaning up data sets, and implement requests that come from data scientists. Python stack. To take the predictive model from the data scientist and implements it in code. To focus on algorithm performance, efficiency and continuous integration & delivery (CI/CD). To optimize model training processes.

Requisites

Professionals with +3 years of experience. Academic Degree in Engineering, Mathematics; Artificial Engineering; Computational Logic... Machine learning domain knowledge, models families and learning algorithms. Skills in design distributed software and architecture in collaboration with data scientists and engineers. Best practices in software development methodologies. Python/R stack. CI/CD. SQL. NLP. Statistics.

Benefits

A key position in one of the most important teams of the company where you can see your impact on the business from the very beginning. Competitive salary. Remote working when you need it (it's ok if you want to work from the beach sometimes). Freedom entails responsibility. Flexible schedules that work with your life. You will work in an autonomous cross-functional team where decision making depends on team consensus.

