

Company Description

AIC-Automotive Intelligence Center is the culmination of a process of reflection with the aim of improving competitiveness within the automotive sector. The Center seeks to attract multidisciplinary businesses and projects and highly qualified professionals. The Center is dedicated to creating value in the sector in various areas: People, developing the best professionals. Processes, pioneering advanced technologies. Products, ascending within the vehicle development cycle. The AIC-Automotive Intelligence Center focuses on: Integrating all necessary capabilities, at local and international levels. Implementing multiple independent, but complementary projects. Working with the flexibility to respond to the needs of local companies as well as multinationals and vehicle manufacturers.

Information

 Deadline: 2024-04-30
 Category: Business
 Province: Bizkaia

 Country: Spain
 City: Amorebieta-Etxano

Company

Fundacion AIC - Automotive Intelligence Center  AUTOMOTIVE INTELLIGENCE CENTER

Main functions, requisites & benefits

Main functions

To support in the dynamization and Work Groups with companies in the Automotive sector. To identify, define and develop collaborative projects. To support in the preparation of technical reports.

Requisites

Master's Degree in Engineering, preferably electronics specialty or similar. At least 3-5 years of experience in technical project management related functions. Previous experience in connectivity/IoT will be valued. Certification related to project management (PMP or similar) will be valued. High level of English, spoken and written. Passionate of automotive/mobility and new technologies. Initiative, responsibility and self-reliance to lead projects while meeting deadlines and objectives. Able to work as part of a team and on several projects simultaneously. Good communication, interpersonal and problem solving skills. Attention to detail, a taste for organized work and ability to synthesize.

Benefits

AIC-Automotive Intelligence Center stands as a beacon of innovation in the automotive industry, and we are seeking individuals who share our passion for pushing boundaries and redefining the future of mobility. Joining our team means becoming a part of a dynamic and collaborative work environment, where your talent and expertise will contribute to cutting-edge projects. Likewise, our commitment to professional development ensures that your skills will continuously evolve as you tackle challenging and groundbreaking endeavors.

